Your old men shall seek the truth; Your young men shall see visions; But I... You and I... will forever be the ...

2-69

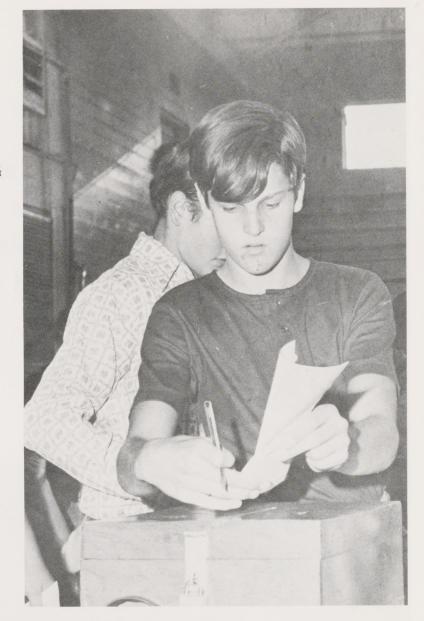

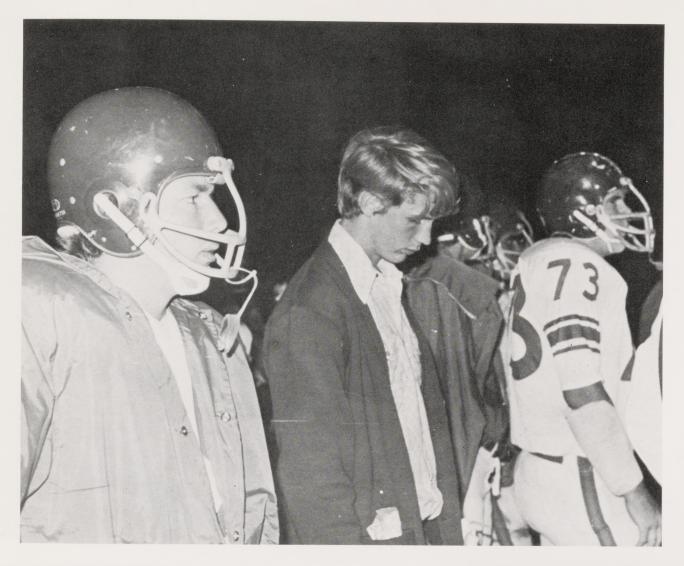

Me are the music-makers, And we are the dreamers of dreams, Mandering by lone sea-breakers, And sitting by desolate streams;

Morld-losers and world-forsakers, On whom the pale moon gleams: Yet we are the movers and shakers Of the world forever, it seems.

With wonderful deathless ditties
We build up the world's great cities,

And out of a fabulous story We fashion an empire's glory:

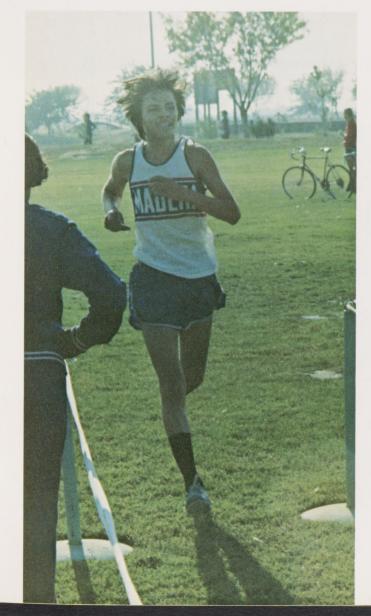

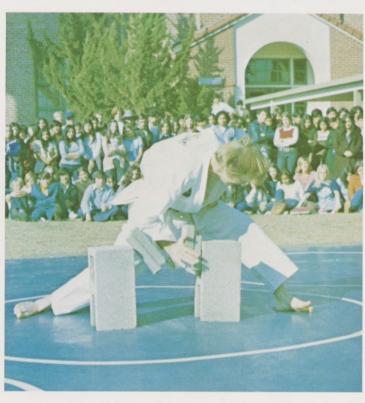

One man with a dream,
At pleasure,
Shall go forth and conquer
A crown,
And three with a new Song's measure
Can trample an empire down.

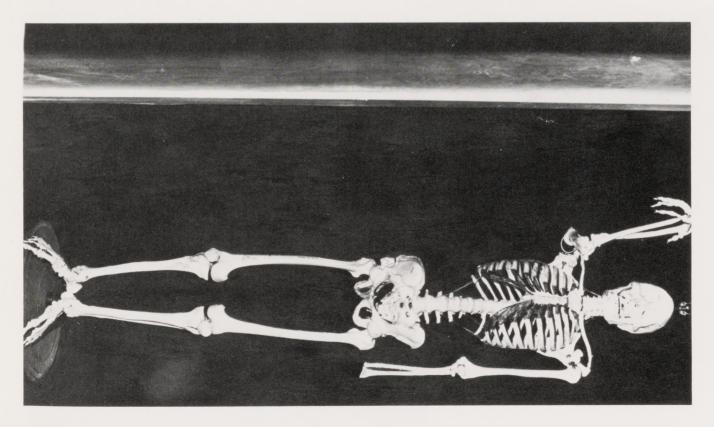

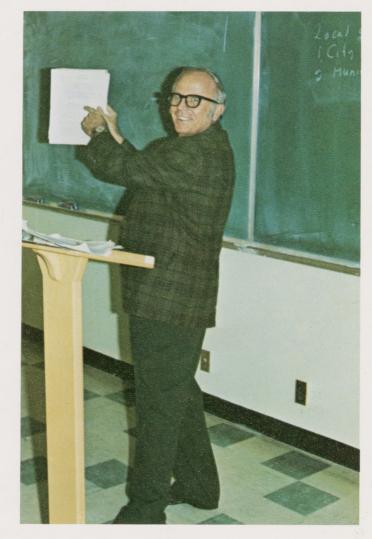

Me, in the ages lying In the buried past of the earth, Built Nineveh with our sighing, And Babel itself with our mirth;

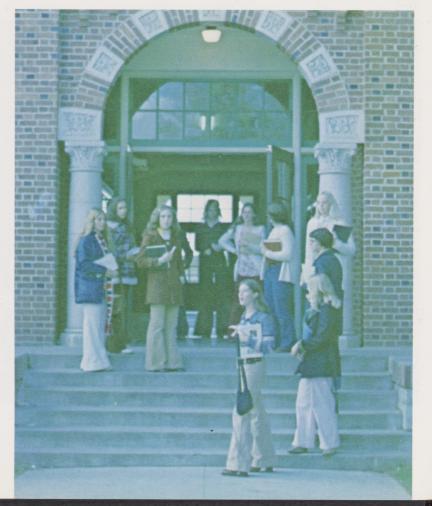

And o'erthrew them with prophesying To the old of the new world's worth; For each age is a dream that is dying, Or one that is coming to birth.

> Arthur William Edgar O'Shaughnessy 1844-1881

music promotes spirit and pride

The modern dance pulsations which echo on campus during football games and assemblies vibrate from a group of hard working musicians-The Dance Band. The Dance Band, working closely with the Madera High School Marching Band, provide entertainment during sports events, assemblies, rallies and occasionally dances. Many of The Dance Band instrumentalists are kept busy performing in both the Marching and Dance Bands. These students beat their drums and blow their horns in victory and defeat at every game, helping to stir pride and spirit. Long hours of practice create the sounds of vitality which cause the Student Body to sit in depths of disappointment when the band is absent.

Drummers add their beat to the Dance Band's rhythm.

a capella offers contemporary music

Madera High School's A Capella Choir provides vocal music for many community churches and social organizations. They also perform at elementary school Christmas programs. The Choir usually presents contemporary and religious musical selections accompanied on the piano by Janie Yakligian and Joan Lewis with drum accompaniment by Danny Gallegos. Mrs. Worthington directs the lyrical group, and as a means of constant improvement, holds sectional rehearsals every lunch period to aid individual section harmony. Each semester, a talent day is reserved for the purpose of allowing everyone in the group an opportunity to participate in a program.

Blue & white staff molds new book

The 1974 BLUE & WHITE staff began the school year in the hopes of creating a decidedly different yearbook. Their main objective was to create an annual that would accurately reflect the events that occurred at Madera High School for one school year. To this extent, they decided to minimize posed club pictures, especially those organizations that were semi-active or not directly affiliated with the school.

Color was planned with great care in the Activities Section in an attempt to match the consummate beauty of this year's cover, which was taken through the 200 inch Hale Observatory telescope.

Noteworthy this year was the fact that the Annual Staff was completely composed of newcomers, with the exception of Karen Del Rianco lettergirls add style to routines

Innovative routines combined with many hours of practice resulted in an award winning year for Madera High School's Lettergirls. Head Lettergirl, Debbie Parker, along with Cindy Clair, Vicky Gibbs, Laurie Gustaveson, Jennifer King, Susan Martinazzi, Glinda Smith, and Marvell Smith marched proudly in front of the Madera High School Marching Band. Bearing the Madera emblem, the Lettergirls entertained sports spectators as they paraded to music provided by the band.

apathy stomped out By pep girls

Clever costumes, stylish routines, and bouncy personalities united to create a vivacious year for the Madera High School Pep Girls. Dipping and whirling, the Pep Girls enchanted their viewers. Their spirited attitudes helped increase student involvement in athletics. Chenza Faso guided Sheila Gokey, Susan Gugliamana, Carey Kirk, Debbie Lowry, Becki Netherton, Jodi Salazar, Therese Tucker, and Vicki Tyler to new heights of excellence in performance. Zealously, the Pep Girls tore down the walls of apathy with their earnest smiling faces and inspirational movements.

One inch higher and this show will be X-rated.

cheerleaders cause winning spirit season

Beth Boysen, Karen Pavey, and Elaine LaMattina comprised the 1973-74 Varsity Cheerleading positions. The trio captivated and led spectators to a "sky High" feeling of enthusiasm. During their season of spirit boosting, the Cheerleaders represented Madera High School with a constant smile and swirl of a leaping skirt. The Cheerleaders directed the 1973-74 White Section to a record degree of participation-despite the discouraging football season.

The Junior Varsity teams were also well represented this year; with Kathy Croom leading Norma Erickson, Michele Lasgoity, Cheryl Townsend and all underclassmen to a year of ardent cheering.

And now let's hear a big cheer for my groovy legs.

mascot and majorettes skip to music

A baton twirling in the air and a coyote screaming in the darkness are regular occurrences during the Madera High School football season. Head Majorette, Gail Bomprezzi, steps high in front of the Marching Band, with Patsy Baldridge, Pam King and Debbie Marklund strutting at her side. On the other end of the field, children laugh with delight at the wiggling coyote. Beneath the gigantic head, petite, Cindy Wheeler skips to the rhythmic music. Both the Mascot and Majorettes add an entertaining flavor to the rugged contact sport.

ffa continues to expand and change

The Madera chapter of the Future Farmers of America has outstanding records of accomplishments. The organization continues to dominate the wide variety of agricultural judging contests held in the valley. The FFA club is one of oldest and largest groups on campus. Madera High School's FFA members once were all males, but today many females have been admitted, including Beth Boysen who became the first female FFA President in history. Each year, Greenhand members affilliate themselves to FFA, ensuring that the productive organization continues to expand.

international dinner encourages exchange of ideas

This year, the Madera chapter of the American Field Service is hosting two Foreign Exchange Students-Arlene Manso from the Phillippines and Alan Christenson, a native of Denmark. One objective of the high school AFS Club is raising funds to allow students from foreign nations a year in Madera, and securing enough money to send a Madera High School representative to an exchange country. To accomplish this, the AFS Club sponsors many activities, such as bake sales and car washes. An International Dinner was also a source of learning foreign food customs and raising valuable capital. Through Foreign Exchange Students, the club hopes to promote an understanding between people of foreign nations. Friendliness between many countries is accomplished each year during an International Week Assembly where local Valley Foreign Exchange Students describe their customs and ideas.

Block m transforms homecoming

The 1973 Block M Week set a new trend in the selection of a Homecoming Queen. Tradition was shoved in the closet and new transformations altered the old order. For the first time in years Block M allowed the Student Body to aid in the choosing of a queen. After nominating twelve semi-finalist girls, Block M held a student vote to narrow the chosen down to five finalists. From these five, Block M members picked the Queen. Despite the radical Queen revision, Block M Week followed the established pattern for the weeks' activities. Wednesday was adorned by "Blue and White Day"-Thursday night was set ablaze with the secretive bonfire. Float competition was conducted at the Government Center with the Junior Class and Mexican-American Club taking the honors. Friday night's halftime glittered from the floats and starry eyed ladies. The five queen candidates-Pat Bodine, Chenza Faso, Susan Gugliamana, Debbie Lowry, and Vicki Tyler, were escorted to the coronation by Wes Kobayashi, Joe Davis, Doug Wilford, Mark Root, and Ron Rowe. The excited silence of suspense was shattered with screams of applause as Susan Gugliamana was crowned 1973 Homecoming Queen by Block M President, Dixon Townsend. All the excitement must have upset the Coyotes, as they fell to Fresno High-35 to 0.

maderan editorials streaked with courage

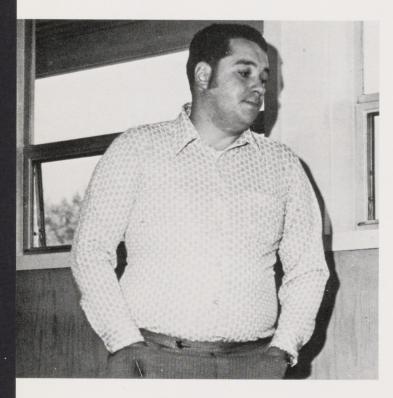

The 1973-74 MADERAN Staff, woven with satire from veteran writers, teamed with the new freshness of novice reporters, to produce a year of journalistic performances worthy of distinction. Editorial commentary, under the triple leadership of Kathy Croom, Barbara Anderson and Elaine Pyle displayed a bold streak of courage in its controversial exploits. Page editors, photographers, reporters, and advertising personnel—Diana Bishop, Beth Boysen, Doug Clute, Gail Davis, Bruce Deaver, Theresa Gonzales, Lynnette Griffin, Matt Huarte, Janice Lynn, Richard Janushan, Elvia Ruiz, Dawn Schwenk, Loretta Steele, Louise VanderLaan, and Sandra Yepiz—captured reader's attention and interest throughout the year with a wide variety of outstanding feature reporting.

The addition of several excellent beginning journalism writers at the semester, continued to improve the MADERAN'S style, making the newspaper attain new heights of distinguishment.

vitality eliminates campus apathy

The 1973-74 Student Council members approached their executive positions with vitality and an ambition of creating a strong effective student government. Fall semester Student Council, presided over by President Jeff Dal Cerro, worked closely with Student Senate in the passage of a revised Over-Affection Policy. The student leaders battled the litter problem in order to save the nutrition break and prevent a closed campus. Spring semester Student Council was under the leadership of President John Rigby and despite spring fever, the officers aided Student Senate in the acceptance of an Assembly Board Bill. The officers also worked to provide school organizations with needed funds. Both fall and spring council members labored to get the entire Student Body involved in Madera High School, and students responses proved that their efforts had eliminated campus apathy.

Student Senate, created two years ago to replace an ineffective Student Legislature has so far injoyed a productive career of service. Headed this year by Vice-Presidents Danny Gallegos and Robert Poythress, Student Senate presented several important and controversial bills for consideration by both Student Council and the Student Body. Senators fought and won a revision to the old Over-Affection Policy, and established an Assembly Board comprised of Students in an effort to increase the number and variety of assemblies given each year. Senators themselves provided intertainment for students throughout the year with an assembly-concert featuring the musical of the Spurrlows, and a "tug o" war" attraction during Blossom Week. The 1973-74 Student Senators were instrumental in the year's record-breaking voter turnouts. Senators pounded the halls seeking candidates and provided an impetus for voting through their own involvement.

ATOMS is a club designed to provide college preparatory Seniors with experience in the educational field. Each year Seniors participate in the ělementary school visitation program. The visitation system permits high school students with an opportunity to view teaching from an inside standpoint. Seniors are allowed to observe and teach actual classes of students. This pre-teaching exposure aids the college prep student to decide if they wish to become a teacher. Prospective ATOMS members received training as guides for visiting eighth grade students, helping the students around campus in a preview of the high school. ATOMS officers for the 1973-74 school year were President, Chenza Faso; Vice-President, Mike Hayes; Secretary, Cindy Clair; and Janie Yakiligian, Treasurer. ATOMS advisers were Miss Patton, Mr. Shriner, and Mr. MacGregor.

The Madera High School Chapter of the California Scholarship Federation (CSF) is an honor society based upon the student's grade points and citizenship. The organization sponsors several sports concessions each year to fulfill the club's motto-scholarship for service. Many CSF members tutor students, completing the organization's theme. Upon entering CSF a perspective member is initiated through a process of "dressing up" and then taking an oath. Members who remain in the club four semesters, one of which must be in their senior year, are awarded Life Membership. These Life Members receive a Life Membership pin which is presented during the Life Membership night meeting. Life Members retain a CSF seal embossed on all their high school transcripts and gold tassels and cords are worn by Life Members on graduation. Twenty-three Life Members for the school year 1973-74 were honored by Mrs. Mastin during night ceremonies. Life Members presented Mrs. Norma Mastin with twenty-three red roses to signify their appreciation for her service to the club.

After a womewhat hesitant beginning, the senior class of 1974 produced another Madera High School tradition — a Senior Play. Under the direction of Miss Brenda Najimian, the Seniors presented Neil Simon's comedy, "Barefoot In The Park." The class of '74 began production with a queasy stomach, but the uneasiness proved to be unfounded as the play drew large crowds.

students apply knowledge to earning wages

Increased emphasis upon the vocational aspects of education has swelled Madera High School's Work Experience Program from a handfull of participants into over one hundred enrollees within the last few years. Students working under the Work Experience system receive not only practical job instruction but are paid wages as they learn. Employers not only pay their young employees but grade the students on the quality of their work, attitude and appearance. Job training and application of information gained in school combine to give the Work Experience student a solid background for future job performance. This working preparation and the encouragement obtained from earnign money, also help to inspire an interest in school. The Work Experience office continually strives to place students in job situations which will add to their knowledge acquired in school.

The traditional musical-play usually performed each spring under the direction of the music department was abandoned this year with a variety musical show appearing in its place. Several factors caused the change of production such as--few musicals had large cast roles, performance variety was limited to the script, and good scripts were hard to obtain. This year's musical revue drew auditions from large numbers of students and the variety acts ranged from rock-n-roll vocalists to a Charlie Chaplin dance routine. Students displayed their many talents in a burlesque fashion with slapstick comedy spicing the singing and dancing.

In the hopes of establishing ethnic pride and understanding, Madera High School designates one week each year for cultural awareness. This International Week is a unique feature of Madera High School--MHS being the only high school in the valley to schedule such an activity. The week begins with a positive show of heritage identity displayed in a dress-up day. Differences in the appetites of people was demonstrated through a noon food sales, where the food selections ranged from Crepe Suzettes to a Soul Food meal. The climax of the nationality week was experienced at the International Assembly. During the international show, AFS students from neighboring high schools told about their backgrounds and cultures. Madera High School students added their talents to the show to conclude a week of international education.

ethnic clubs show pride in activities

The ethnic clubs of Madera High School each contributed their personal touches to the 1973 school year and especially to the International Week festivities.

afro-american club

Madera High School Afro-Americans conducted a talent show early in the year, followed by their commemoration of Dr. Martin Luther King. A guest speaker and assembly celebrated Black History Week. Blacks performed a dance routine and one song selection as their contribution to the International Assembly, as a means of showing Black Pride.

hardworking varsity gridders have disappointing season

In spite of the hardwork put in by Madera's Varsity Football team, the 1973-74 season closed without a win. Although the Coyotes lacked considerable experience, the team demonstrated streaks of brilliance on both Offensive and Defensive squads. Outstanding individual play was also exhibited throughout the year.

Having more than 50% of the players on this year's team who have never experienced the thrill of victory is very frustating and depressing for a young team to face. In the past, Madera Football has built up a losing tradition, but with the highly qualified coaching staff of Madera and the feeder program which is beginning to pay off, as can be seen from our Junior Varsity and Freshman squads, Madera will build their depth, strength, and confidence to become a winning football team once again.

The Most Valuable Player award went to Tony Crump; the Team Captains were Mike Madole and David Rivera.

Junior varsity puts it altogether

Breaking last year's winless season, the 1973-74 Junior Varsity football team displayed elated high team spirit and the desire to win, beating six out of the ten teams they played to finish third in NYL behind Fresno and Edison, who tied for 2nd and the 1st place Clovis Cougars.

After a slow start with Merced in a practice match, losing 8-18, Madera won an impressive game against Chowchilla, shutting out the Redskins 30-0 and beating the Washington Panthers 28-14. Hit by a double loss to the tough Tigers and Clovis squads, the Coyotes came back with a hard fought 11-7 victory over the Bullard Knights. Dropping one more game, Madera beat the last three teams straight, playing their most satisfying game of the year, with the Coyote's defeating the Hoover Patriots 28-14.

Not only did this year's squad outdo last year's team, but also proved to be the best Junior Varsity since 1965 ever to play for Madera High School.

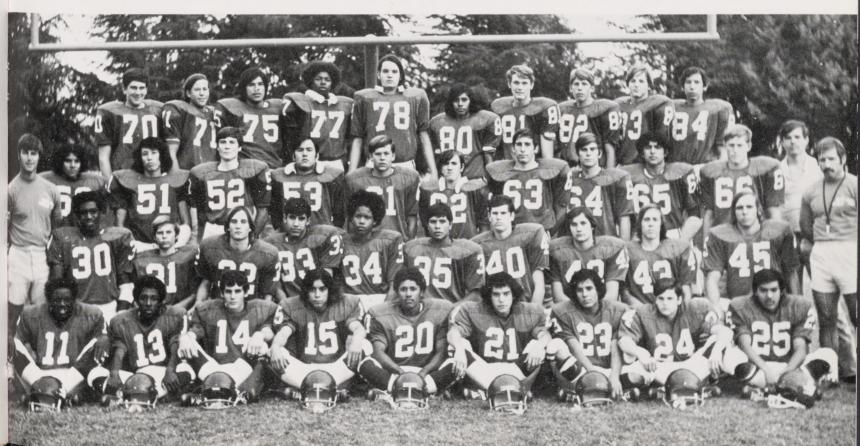

Returning next year with a great coaching staff and team members that know how to win, Madera football has a bright future.

freshmen exhibit outstanding teamwork

The individuals responsible for the freshman football team showed themselves quite respectable foes while compiling a 5-1-1 record for the 1973-74 season. The team, directed by coaches Pisk and Brink, played well, losing only to undefeated Dos Palos. Good teamwork proved to be an essential, factor in the success of this year's squad.

Voted by the coaches Most Valuable Player was David Juarique, and team captains were Morris Coffee and David Juarique.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL comes to madera

By expanding the athletic program at Madera High, girls are now provided with an opportunity to represent their high school and to express themselves in a new sport with the addition of a girls volleyball team. Four Team's were formed with two "C" teams changing intermitently building more experience. This year's "A" team tied for a fourth place in NYL, "B" team took a fifth, and the "C" performed quite well placing second in league.

varsity golfers feature senior squad

Striving for respectability, this year's Coyote golfers enter the league season with a veteran squad lead by seniors George Tamberi, Brent Peart, Mark Root, and Donald Farnesi. Prospects for a good season exist as the Coyote squad is .500 at this writing with a 2-2 league mark.

champion cross-country teams overwhelm valley competition

The 1973 Cross-Country team went all the way to produce the finest season in Madera High's history as all four teams were rated Number One in the Valley Championships. This year's varsity proved beyond doubt that they were number one in the San Joaquin Valley, defeating all the Bakersfield teams, especially top ranked Redwood High School. Coach DeWitt rates his team among the best in the state. The varsity suffered only one loss during the season to the Hoover Patriots.

Eight members of the Varsity squad made the All-NYL League team. They were Lawrence Carranza, who won the Most Valuable Performer Award; Paul Keel, captain; Ray Rubio, Most Outstanding; Art Villareal, Most Consistent; Frank Frausto, Numero Uno Award; Jose Renteria, Most Valuable Sophomore; Elias Cazares, Most Dependable; Jesse Martinez, Most Improved.

On the undefeated Junior Varsity Valley Championship Team David Garza was voted the Most Valuable Player and Robby Espana was voted Team Captain. In the Frosh-Soph class Jose Renteria and John Armendariz were elected cocaptains and the Frosh Captain was William Zamora. Seventeen of the top twenty harriers are underclassmen who will be returning next year.

The Team's overall record for the year was 31 wins and 1 loss, with 20 major championship victories to enhance their record.

first year water polo teams perform well

As a new addition to Madera High School athletics the 1973 Water Polo team did well for its first year of interscholastic competition. Starting off slowly at the beginning of the year, Madera came back to dominate the last half of league play, losing only once to Valley Champs, Clovis High. The Coyote varsity tied for a fourth place in the NYL, while Madera's strong Junior Varsity finished third in the league.

Varsity awards were given to Joe Davis, Most Valuable; Ruben Rodriquez, Most Improved Player; and Carey Dutcher, Team Captain. On the Junior Varsity Rick Treatch received Most Valuable and the Most Improved Award went to David Boyd.

Madera can expect to see a good, strong Water Polo squad next year, with six returning Varsity Lettermen along with this year's strong J.V. embers to fill vacant varsity slots. Compared to the Fresno schools, Madera is considerable behind in training its talent, but with the skillful coaching of Scott Holmes and the addition of a feeder program starting this summer, Madera should enjoy many successful seasons to come.

grapplers take second in league competition

It's going to take a lot to break a championship tradition like the Madera High Wrestling team has built. Even though Clovis has a relatively young team, they have a little more experience than this year's Coyote team. Madera grapplers also have a young team and will hustle to bring back the crown which is rightfully ours.

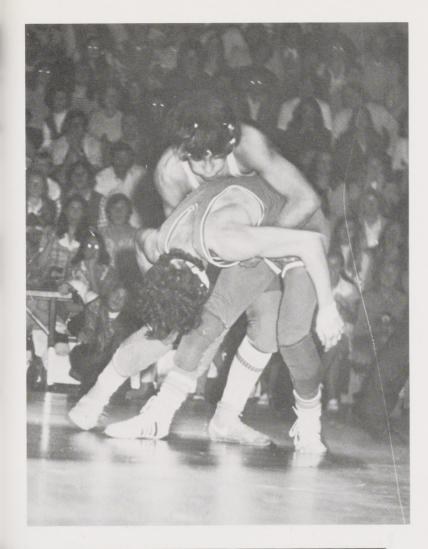

Our wrestlers lost two practice matches to Washington High and Hughson High to spark Madera grapplers to work harder and tougher. Madera won all six league matches but had to take a back seat to Clovis who went undefeated in league play and were the eventual state champs. Even though this year wasn't Madera's peak, we did very well. One bright spot in the season was the NYL-SYL tourney in which Madera went undefeated.

Congratulations must go to Robert Kiddy and Art Villareal for making it to the state tournament this year and to the continuing fine efforts of Coach Al Kiddy.

"hope" invades Basketball season

Basketball is on its way up at Madera High School and the 1974 Varsity Basketball team has certainly made a fine foundation. Even though the Coyotes suffered eight losses, Madera was considered a threat to every team in the league, including NYL champs Edison. Prior to league competition, Madera competed in the Holiday Tourney, getting through the first round defeating Sierra High 56-39. Madera really put the pressure on during the semi-final match with Edison, playing an excellent ball game. As time ran out Madera showed a score of 26 and Edison 33.

Under the new coacing direction of Jim Morgan, the Coyotes hope to move upward in league competition.

J.v.'s have super season

The Junior Varsity basketball team finished its best season in many years. "Its been the most enjoyable team I've ever coached," stated Coach Lee Ladding of his team. The Coyote Pups were so competitive and tough in practice, they played many excellent games.

Highlighting the season was the Madera-Edison match. They played their best game defeating the eventual NYL champs in overtime by four points. Another exciting game was the one against Hoover on our home court. Madera fell behind early in the first half 4-33. Beginning the second half Madera made a miraculous comeback to win in another overtime.

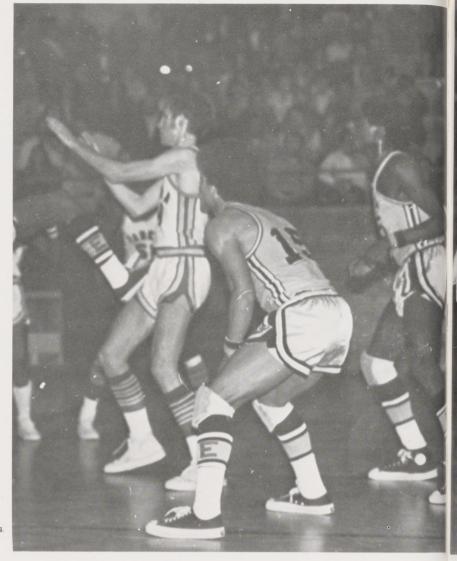

Madera maintained team loyalty and, according to Coach Ladding, "The people who sat on the bench made the first string better, because of their highly competitive attitudes."

new sport enlivens schedule

Soccer is one of the fastest growing sports in the world and has now been established as a part of Madera High's athletic program. This new athletic event offers any young man the opportunity to play soccer competitively.

The team, consisting of eleven players, hustled well in practice and in competition under the watchful eye of Coach John Eisele.

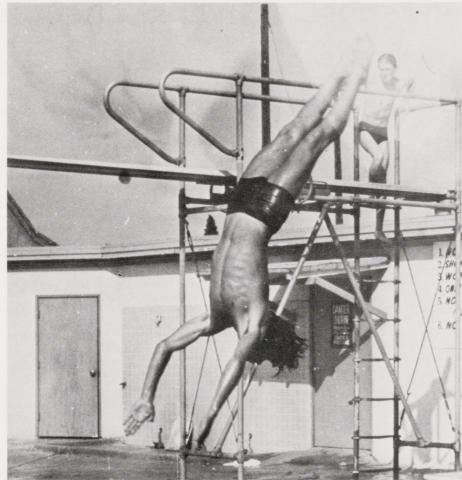

Drawing upon an already established feeder program, the Fresno teams were much advanced in their offensive techniques and put the Coyote squad on the defensive much of the time. Although Madera finished with only one victory — defeating Clovis 2-0 — there were two deadlocks and four close losses by not more than a four point margin for any single loss. Certainly the best games were played against Clovis, Hoover and Fresno High.

Receiving awards this year were: Joe Castaneda, Most Valuable Player; Leonard Luna, Leading Scorer; Fred Holloway, Outstanding Goalie. Next year Madera is fortunate to have nine returning lettermen.

tankers splash to successful season

At the time of this writing, the Madera Tankers are splashing their way to another successful season under the guidance of head coach Arlie Ruble. So far the highlight of the season was the defeat of the league-favored Bullard girls team by the Madera girls squad. Ironically the boys, who were favored, lost.

This year Coach Ruble will be losing some truly outstanding senior performers in Susie Howard, Debbie Davis, Joe Davis, LeRoy Marklund, Dixon Townsend, Cliff Orr, and Brad Ruble.

Leading the diving squad this season are Steve Accornero, Rick Treatch, and freshman Debbie Forehand.

coyote netters streak for successful season

The Madera High Boy Netters for the 1974 season started off the season by working hard. Even though the first victory did not come until the third NYL match, boy netters attributed their success to the persistent encouragement and tips delivered by Coach Bozio. The boys were known throughout the valley this year for their "streaking" ability rather than their tennis prowess. Leading scorers for the boys this year were Ron Rowe, Fred Verduzco, and Bob Poythress.

late season losses drop girl netters to fourth

The 1974 Varsity Girl's Tennis Team is looking forward to one of their best seasons since 1961. This year's teams consists of six seniors and two underclassmen. The team has started their season very well winning all but one of their practice matches and losing a close match to Selma 2-3. In league competition girls are undefeated near the midpoint of their season and face a tough Bullard team. Madera is favored to win since Madera defeated Clovis for the second time and Clovis in turn beat Bullard.

Playing in the number one singles is senior Pat Bodine and Louise VanderLaan, also a senior, is at the number two position. Four seniors comprise Madera's doubles Samantha Fulsom and Gladys Deniz at No. 1 with Rosemarie Garcia and Cheryl Fant at second position. The team is rounded out by Terese Tucker, Lisa VanderLaan, Denise Potter, Leticia Munoz, and Karen Kirk. The girl's tennis team is ably coached by Mrs. Jane Holloway.

weak hitting plagues coyote nine

Lead by strong-armed hurlers Brian Clark and Oscar Olguin, the Coyote baseball squad began another spring in the hopes of improving on last year's 6-16 record. Hoping for hitting miracles from Steve Potter and Domingo Valdez, the Coyotes faltered slightly in early league play, going to a record of 2-3. This year Bullard and Clovis are favored to win the NYL crown, but a good year for the Coyote squad could go a long way in spoiling the Fresno's schools' chances for repeating for another year.

pre-algebra class dropped

The only change in the Math Department this year was the dropping of the Pre-algebra class and the creation of a two-year Algebra I sequence in its place. Many math students received new books this year which was the extent of equipment received by the department.

Many teachers taught different classes than they had previously taught so students were met with new faces in different areas.

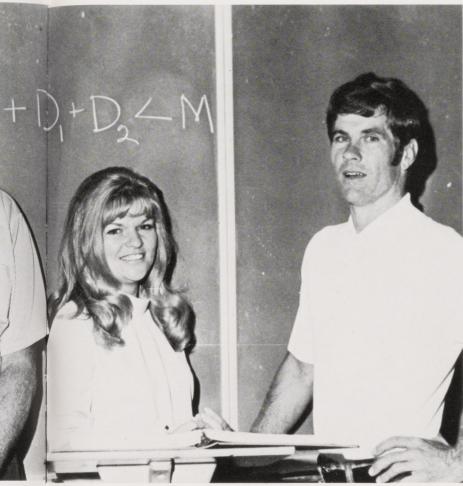

The Math department is constantly striving to maintain a more advanced and modern way of presenting math to the students. This year proved to move the department one step closer toward its ultimate goal.

semester classes broaden english curriculum

The English Department underwent a much needed change by having a new curriculum in which sophomores, juniors, and seniors may choose which class they want to fill their requirement. The reading program was also expanded to include sophomore and senior classes. Mrs. Madelyn Jones was the only new teacher added to the department.

Even though the department received no new facilities or equipment, the teachers expanded their use of the video tape machine by showing movies that had been seen on television. A new dimension was added to the English department when the independent study classes took field trips to the Fresno and Madera libraries, influencing many other English classes to do the same.

Both students and teachers reacted to the tremendous change similarly. The teachers felt that the new program enabled them to present new ideas and new and better books to the students who responded with ideas to be pondered.

music department gains new band director

The Music Department again filled the school with much enthusiastic spirit throughout their performances. Mrs. Worthington, who was absent during the first of the year due to a broken leg, chairmanned the department. A new member added to the staff was band director, Mr. Stelting.

Mrs. Worthington kept spirits high throughout the Christmas season when she involved the A Cappella choir in many performances. They also performed at such special events as Open House. Mr Stelting added his creativity to the marching band half-time shows when new routines were added to their repertoire. The band also performed in parades, assemblies, and basketball games throughout the year.

new chairman for art department named

The Art Department gained a new chairman this year when Mrs. Huckobey left to teach at Clovis. The new chairman, Mr. Boomer, was quite enthusiastic with high hopes of having his Advanced Ceramics Classes actually building a gas kiln. The department also considered taking field trips to art museums to add a new dimension to art classes.

The department also gained another teacher in Miss Hoggan who added her abilities to the staff. Miss Hoggan, also teaching in the business department, taught three classes of Crafts and Art I.

New classes added to the curriculum include Costume Design and Interior Decorating. The students responded with interest to these classes

new microscopes update science department

This year in the Science Department the main event was the arrival of seven new microscopes for use in the biology classes. Another welcomed addition included a new ecology course to take the place of one semester of sophomore biology. New teachers added to the department were Miss Kathy Devereaux, a chemistry teacher and Mr. Dave Tinkle, who substituted for Mr. Mastin during his illness.

Projects in the Science Department included such annual class assignments as insect and wildflower collection. Other projects included field trips to various places of interest by sophomore biology classes.

The teaching staff tried a new approach in the biology classes which was greeted with approval by students and teachers. It consisted of more student activities throughout the entire course.

foreign language department adds culture to m.h.s.

The Foreign Language Department remained primarily the same this year, although advanced students were allowed to do some independent work this year.

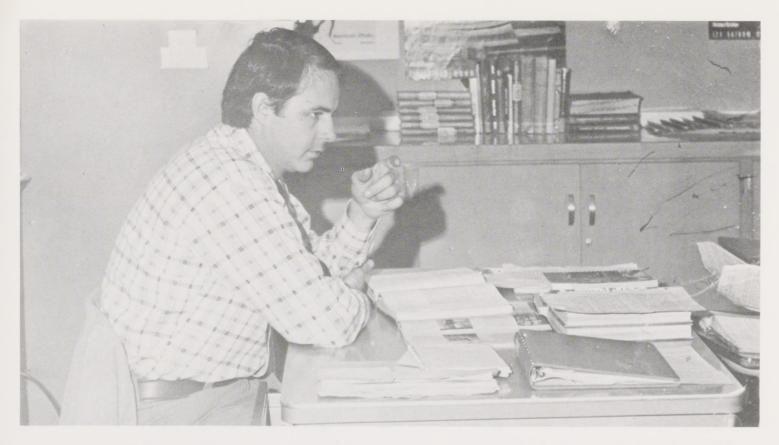

No new teachers were added to the staff this year. A new course added to the curriculum was Italian II. This course was created to allow students that took Italian I last year to continue their studies in the language. Mr. Edward Pia taught these classes.

The department continued its use of the language lab, both as classes and individually. It is the department's goal to add culture to the environment at Madera High. Through the language clubs and their activities, the department progressed just a little further toward its goal.

social science requirements reduced for graduation

The Social Science department both lost and gained in their curriculum this year. Although the U.S. History and Civics requirements were cut to one semester, other semester classes were added to round out the curriculum. These classes included such subjects as Psychology, Sociology, California History, and International Relations.

Mr. Ron Pisk joined the teaching staff along with Mr. Gary Mulliner who returned from a two year trip to New Zealand. In the area of new facilities, the department gained a new slide projector and a new ditto machine.

Another new dimension was added this year when several speakers came to classes. With this and other new approaches by the Social Science teaching staff, students were quite pleased in the usually boring history or civics classes.

industrial arts department gains new equipment

The big event in the Industrial Arts department this year was the addition of new equipment. Included in this equipment was a new planer. The department neither gained or lost any teachers, so students remained familiar with the teaching techniques in the department.

Students continued to construct many useful items in such classes as Wood Shop. During the Christmas season this year, some of the students sold jewelry boxes they had made to be given as gifts.

The Industrial Arts teaching staff has set a goal to teach useful techniques to their students and this year they met that goal.

new food services laboratory in home economics department

A change from teaching "Useful" home economics to teaching both "Useful" and "Gainful" home economics was evident in the curriculum this year when more emphasis was put on vocational education offerings. The department also gained a new food services laboratory which proved useful as a restaurant for the faculty.

The teaching staff, who acquired two new teachers, Lenora Kor and Virginia Fisher, were very excited about new classes as were the students who proved it by enlarging the enrollment, especially in the boys' foods classes.

two teachers added to agriculture department

This year the Agriculture Department students were met with new faces in different places as every teacher worked in a new area. There were only two new teachers added to the department this year—Mr. Tom Greci and Mr. Joe Camerillo.

The only change in curriculum was in the Ornamental Horticulture class which was divided into Advanced and Beginning classes, each a full year long. Both students and teachers accepted the change with enthusiasm.

Projects planned by the department were mostly FFA functions such as fairs, shows, and judging teams.

As in the past the Agriculture department has continued to expand as more students take part in projects and as new methods are developed.

Boys' p.e. gets new showers

The Physical Education Department which is constantly changing to keep in step with modern ways continued its trend towards more recreational activities with carry-over values for later life.

Along with gaining new department chairman, Mr. Jim Morgan, the boy's department gained new showers and new offices for the coaches. Also added were new team handball courts in addition to the usual replacement of equipment each year.

New teachers gained by the department include Mr. Ron Pisk, who is also teaching in the Social Science department and Mr. Jim Morgan who also served as Varsity basketball coach.

Both the girls and the boys responded to the Physical Education classes enthusiastically as they have in the past.

learning coordinator system enters administration

A drastic change took place in the administration of Madera High this year. The old-fashioned "Dean of Boys" and "Dean of Girls" were replaced with four learning coordinators. Each learning coordinator is responsible for the attendance and discipline of one class which they will remain with all four years the class is in school. This enables the administration to communicate better with the students. Each learning coordinator is also in charge of curriculum and teacher evaluation in certain departments. In addition to these duties each coordinator shares responsibilities in co-curricular activities.

Because of this change many new faces were seen in our administration. Mr. Barry Crow joined our staff after teaching at Clovis High for four years and Mr. Gerald Johnson and Mr. Joe Vivid left their teaching positions in the Social Science department to become learning coordinators. The only coordinator that was involved in administrative work before is Mr. Jim Harper.

The new administration has shown that it does improve communication between the administration, teachers, and students. Madera High has become a place of better education.
